U.S. Strikes Iran's Nuclear Facilities Saturday Evening

Trump gives the go ahead to strike three of Iran's nuclear facilities with "bunker busting" bombs. "We have completed our very successful attack on the three Nuclear sites in Iran, including Fordow, Natanz, and Esfahan," Trump posted on Truth Social. Trump also gave a brief nationwide address from the White House Saturday at 2200 Eastern Standard Time. \(More\)

Iranian Parliament Looking to Close the Strait of Hormuz

According to Iranian state media on Sunday, the Iranian Parliament has approved measures to close the Strait of Hormuz. This is a key, global bottleneck for oil and will likely have a significant impact on many economies, including the United States. Abbas Araghchi, the Iranian Foreign Minister, has warned of "everlasting consequences." \(More\)

Secretary Rollins Rolls Out Plan to Combat New World Screwworm

The New World Screwworm (NWS) has been eradicated in the United States for decades, but recent detections have spotted them about 700 miles south of the border in Mexico. This is a five part plan: to stop the spread in Mexico and ensure our partnership to eradicate, protect the border, maximize readiness, produce and disperse sterile NWS flies from the U.S. as an eradication tool, and to continue to innovate our way to eradication. NWS is a devastating pest that causes serious and often fatal damage to animals and, in rare cases, even humans. \(More\)
